Fair Weather Golfers.....

Our 10th Annual Benefit Golf Tournament was canceled due to the rainstorm on Monday. Sooooo, there's still time to get a team together and join the fun! The rain date is next week Friday, the 18th. Check with President Don or Erik Beatley for more details. Our beneficiary is Habitat for Humanity and Wells Fargo is the presenting sponsor. We still need hole sponsors, and help with registrations.

A Once In A Lifetime Opportunity

Time is running out. If you'd like to join President Don and your fellow Rotarians in Area One to celebrate the 100 year anniversary of our District as we host District Governor Rob Mabry, please sign up today. The event will be held Saturday October 26th at the George Washington Hotel. Cost is $35/person. And yes, you get a make-up!

THANK YOU

We just relegated another Apple Harvest Festival to the history books, and everyone who volunteered to help make the festival a success is owed a big "thanks" from the club. Your involvement makes events like these possible and helps us to "do good" locally. While we are on the subject, if you brought a door prize to the shrimp feed, thank you!

Last Week

Most of us never give a thought to how lucky we are to have consistent and reliable access to clean drinking water. Walter Hughes, our presenter last week certainly gives thought to the value of clean drinking water, and he has made it his life's work to help isolated and impoverished communities in Ghana and South Sudan gain access to this fundamental necessity of life.

Hughes says that in addition to being passionate about giving people access to clean water, he is passionate about ending neglected tropical diseases that are associated with the consumption of contaminated water. His work to drill wells in needy communities has been one of the most significant contributions noted in the fight to end Dracunculiasis, a disease that is commonly known as guinea worm disease. The disease is contracted when someone drinks water that is contaminated by "water fleas." Approximately a year later, the resulting parasitic worm will emerge from the skin, creating an excruciating painful blister that feels like a hot poker rising from under the skin. In 2011, efforts to increase access to clean water paid off, and the disease was completely eradicated in Ghana. Significant progress towards ending Buruli Ulcers has occurred in tandem with these efforts.

South Sudan is the next immediate target for Hughes. Together with hundreds of trained volunteers, he has drilled wells and educated health workers to recognize symptoms of these diseases earlier. His work has earned him White House recognition as a Champion of Change.

Nominations for Awards

Awards night is nigh and nominations are needed for the Avenues of Service Award and the Phil Sprenkle Vocational Award. Nomination forms should be on your table today.

Welcome New Members!

Osborne Abbey was inducted into the club last week, and we welcomed recently inducted Thomas Ruffin for the second time. Please take a moment to make them feel welcome!

Libba’s Health Tip of the Week

Libba regrettfully had no new information to report about Rich Reedy, but she was able to learn that George Henzel was recovery well from his rotator cuff surgery. He will be out for a few weeks, so keep him in your thoughts.

If you missed last week’s health tip, you missed a real treat. Libba entertained us by reading a poem about the value of eating apples. (Who knew they were good for both wrinkle reduction and the “cleansing of your colon?”)

*Wrinkles plague the fat;
Wrinkles plague the lean;
The cure for both is APPLES;
They keep the colon clean.
They heal the bruised tissues,
They carry the toxins away.
The treatment for those wrinkles?
At least 3 apples a day!*
